PROGRAM
THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
16th ANNUAL MIDWESTERN CONFERENCE OF PARASITOLOGISTS
May 22-23, 1964

Friday, May 22nd

- 9:00 A.M. - 12 noon Registration, Center for Continuing Education, 1307 E. 60th Street, 2nd floor lobby west, where, if you had not registered before the conference, you may register and pay your fees which include $4.15 for dinner, $2.00 conference registration and in addition 50¢ conference dues (total - $6.65). It would be appreciated if those with demonstrations would bring their material in the morning to Room 18, Ricketts North, 5724 Ellis Avenue. Someone will be on hand to assist you in setting up demonstration material. The Microbiology Department (Ricketts North and South) is located approximately 7 blocks from the Center for Continuing Education and you should easily find it by consulting one of the maps available to you at the registration desk.
- 2:00 P.M. - 4:45 P.M. Demonstration session, Ricketts North, Room 18. This time period is rather flexible since we have no concept at the present as to the number of demonstrations that will be available. During this period Dr. Lewert's laboratories in Ricketts South, 5736 Ellis, a few doors away, will be open to visitors and we will be very pleased to show individuals or groups the general facilities.
- 5:00 P.M. There will be a short business meeting in Ricketts North, Room 1.
- 6:30 P.M. Banquet, Room 1B, Center for Continuing Education.
- 8:00 P.M. Room 2BC, Dr. Robert Kuntz will speak on "Paragonimiasis in Formosa".

Saturday, May 23rd

- 8:30 A.M. Business meeting, Room 2BC, Center for Continuing Education.
- 9:00 A.M. Room 2BC, Special program. Dr. Cable, Chairman, has arranged a discussion of various topics by graduate students, as follows:
1. Evaluation of Nematode Egg-Counting Technics. John M. Vetterling, Spokesman; Edgar Houdeshell, James A. Porter, Jr., and Guang-Tsan Wang. University of Illinois. (45 minutes)
 2. Phagocytosis and Parasitic Infections. Curtis Patton, Spokesman; Dennis Huff, and Richard Kocan. Michigan State University. (45 minutes)
 3. Electron Microscopy of Helminths.
Fine Structure Studies on Nippostrongylus braziliensis. Mahendra Jamuar. University of Chicago. (15 minutes)
Fine Structure of Photoreceptors in Larval Trematodes. Glenn G. Pond, Spokesman; and Hadar Isseroff. Purdue University. (30 minutes)

Parasitology is included within the Microbiology Department. Currently, the functions of the department are located in three separate campus areas with laboratories of immunology, virology, pathogenic bacteriology, bacterial physiology, bacterial genetics and parasitology. Except for an introductory course in microbiology available to advanced undergraduates, all instruction in the department is at graduate level and includes individual courses in each of the areas above.

In the event that you need help or information, the following phone numbers are included for your convenience:

Department of Microbiology Office, Ext. 3950
 R. M. Lewert, Ext. 3956, 3959; Home phone, PL 2-4330

Report of the Secretary-Treasurer 1964

Minutes: Sixteenth Annual Conference of Parasitologists, University of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois, May 22-23, 1964.

First Business Meeting - May 22

Presiding Officer Dr. David T. Clark called the meeting to order in Ricketts North at 5:00 PM. Mimeographed copies of the minutes of the last meeting were distributed and were approved as printed.

Ad hoc committees were appointed by the Presiding Officer as follows:

Nominating Committee:

George Kelley, Chairman
Ben Jaskoski
Raymond Cable

Program Committee:

Milo Brandt, Chairman (Lilly, Indianapolis)
Donald Dusanic (Univ. of Kansas)
Donald Twohy (Michigan State Univ.)

Meeting Place Committee:

Bill Marquardt, Chairman
Bill Bemrick

Resolutions Committee:

Norman Levine, Chairman
Paul Thompson

Comments were invited with regard to the mimeographed sheets on objectives, organization, and administration of AMCOP. Members were asked to look them over and make suggestions to the Policy Committee, which is composed of the following members: Merle Hansen, George Kelley, Norman Levine, Francis Kruidenier, Dave Clark, the new Presiding Officer (ex officio), and the Secretary-Treasurer (ex officio).

The membership was asked to send the Secretary the names of prospective new members.

The membership moved adjournment of the first business meeting.

The annual banquet was held at 6:30 PM in the Center for Continuing Education. The annual guest speaker was Dr. Robert E. Kuntz. His highly informative and entertaining talk, "Paragonimiasis in Formosa", was drawn from his recent experiences with the U. S. Naval Medical Research Unit No. 2.

Second Business Meeting - May 23

Presiding Officer Dr. David Clark called the meeting to order in the Center for Continuing Education at 8:45 AM. Reports from the ad hoc committees were called for.

Nominating Committee, George Kelley, chairman: The committee placed the name of Dr. Paul E. Thompson in nomination for the next Presiding Officer. Dr. Kruidenier moved that a unanimous ballot be cast for Dr. Thompson. Passed. There were no other offices to be filled.

Meeting Place Committee: William Marquardt, Chairman, stated that the 17th Annual Conference will be held at the Gull Lake Biological Station of Michigan State University in mid-June, 1965. At the meeting a year ago, a spokesman from Iowa State University had placed a bid for hosting the Conference in 1966, but since Iowa had no representative present this year to offer a firm commitment, Dr. Marquardt ~~placed a bid~~ offered an invitation from the University of Illinois for hosting the Conference in June of 1966.

Program Committee: Milo Brandt, Chairman, stated that there was no report as yet, but that the committee would welcome suggestions.

Resolutions Committee, Norman Levine, Chairman: Be it resolved that the Annual Midwestern Conference of Parasitologists wishes to thank the University of Chicago and its Department of Microbiology for their hospitality to this 16th AMCOP. It wishes to thank Dr. Lewert, Mr. Mandlowitz, and the other members of their department staff who worked hard to make the Conference a success. It also wishes to thank Dr. and Mrs. Lewert for their gracious hospitality in their home.

The membership moved adjournment of the second business meeting.

Dr. David Clark showed some color slides of the Gull Lake Biological Station as advance advertisement for the 1965 meeting.

Dr. Raymond & M. Cable, Chairman of the Program Committee for this meeting, introduced a special program led by graduate students, as outlined in the accompanying Annual Report. The students did a very fine job, and the 16th AMCOP officially closed at noon.

AMCOP Financial Report, 1964:

The University of Chicago Center for Continuing Education took care of all financing for the banquet and other costs associated with the 16th Annual Conference of May 22-23, 1964. Their schedule of charges to registrants was as follows:

$4.15 for banquet
2.00 for conference registration
.50 AMCOP dues collected for the organization
$6.65 total

$27.00 dues collected from 54 registrants * @ 50¢
- 10.00 room charge for guest speaker, Dr. R. E. Kuntz
$17.00 sent to the Sec-Treas. of AMCOP

On May 22, 1964, Dr. David T. Clark turned over to Dr. Ernest J. Huggins the sum of $170.18, representing the total assets of AMCOP. This amount was deposited in the Brookings Savings and Loan Association, Brookings, S. Dak., on May 28, 1964, Account Number 3787. The above-listed figure of $17.00 in dues (after expenses) was deposited in July; by this time a dividend of $0.57 had accrued. Therefore, the balance on hand as of July 27, 1964, was $187.75.

Name: _____

Title of demonstration: _____

Bench space required (Linear foot): _____

Number of microscopes: _____ Number of dissecting microscopes: _____

Please bring 100 copies of an abstract or summary of your demonstration.

Please fill out the above form and return to:

Department of Microbiology
5724 Ellis Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60637
Attn: Dr. Robert M. Lewert

NOTE: The number of microscopes available locally is limited. Students furnish their own or rely on a rental service. For this reason it is desirable, where possible, to illustrate your studies with photographs or similar aids. It would be of great help to limit any redundant material. Conferees may bring their own microscopes as we can afford them secure housing during the meetings.

ANNUAL MIDWESTERN CONFERENCE OF PARASITOLOGISTS

ANNUAL REPORT, 1964

To: Dr. Francis J. Kruidenier, Secretary, American Society of Parasitologists
From: Dr. Ernest J. Huggins, Sec.-Treas., Annual Midwestern Conference of Parasitologists
Subject: Annual report to the Council of the American Society of Parasitologists

The 16th Annual Midwestern Conference of Parasitologists was held at the University of Chicago on May 22-23, 1964, with Dr. David T. Clark serving as Presiding Officer. Dr. Robert M. Lewert was in charge of local arrangements. Headquarters for the conference was the new Center for Continuing Education (housing, registration, banquet, special program). The customary demonstration session was held in Ricketts North. There were 54 registrants plus a few visitors in attendance, and there were 14 demonstrations set up.

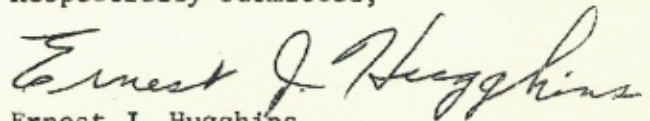

The annual guest speaker was Dr. Robert E. Kuntz. His highly informative and entertaining talk, "Paragonimiasis in Formosa", was drawn from his recent experiences with the U. S. Naval Medical Research Unit No. 2.

Dr. Raymond M. Cable, chairman of the program committee, arranged a discussion of various topics by graduate students, as follows:

1. Evaluation of Nematode Egg-Counting Techniques. John M. Vetterling, spokesman; Edgar Houdeshell, James A. Porter, Jr., and Guang-Tsan Wang. University of Illinois.
2. Phagocytosis and Parasitic Infections. Curtis Patton, spokesman; Dennis Huff, and Richard Kocan. Michigan State University.
3. Electron Microscopy of Helminths.
 - (a) Fine Structure Studies on Nippostrongylus braziliensis. Mahendra Januar. University of Chicago.
 - (b) Fine Structure of Photoreceptors in Larval Trematodes. Glenn G. Pond, spokesman; and Hadar Isseroff. Purdue University.

Dr. Paul E. Thompson was elected Presiding Officer for 1965. Dr. Milo C. Brandt is chairman of the program committee. The 17th Annual Conference will be held at the Gull Lake Biological Station of Michigan State University in mid-June, 1965. The 18th Annual Conference is scheduled for the University of Illinois in June of 1966.

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Francis:-

This is to acknowledge your letter of July 11 in which you requested that I reserve a place on the 1958 Council Meeting Agenda concerning application by the Midwestern Conference of Parasitologists for affiliation with the Society. I shall be very pleased to do this.

I, along with many other members of the two groups, will be happy to see this affiliation established.

Yours sincerely,

Paul
